

The easiest way to make your event a fun and unforgettable success.

What's the difference between "another banquet" and one that lives long after in the minds of your guests? Often it's not the food or the venue, but the entertainment. That's Jeff Evans' job - making corporate events fun and unforgettable with his special style of entertainment.

Count on Jeff Evans' interactive magic to capture your guests' attention and bring out the laughs and smiles! You'll hear screams of laughter and see looks of amazement as Jeff works his magic, featuring your participants as stars of his performance. Both strolling and stand-up shows are available to best fit the venue and number of guests you expect.

And, if you have a special theme or person you would like involved in the show, Jeff can customize a routine to make it happen in a magical way.

Hassle-free Entertainment

Selecting entertainment is the smallest of your concerns when planning an event. Invite Jeff to perform, and you never need to worry about having the right equipment. Jeff travels with his own tables, sound system, and music. His show is honed to it's funniest and best with 250+ shows per year.

His magic peers agree, having awarded him seventeen first-place finishes at magic competitions ranging from Arizona to Calgary.

Jeff takes care of the little details to make your job easy so you can relax and enjoy the event. Backdrops and portable stage lighting are available for more theatrical productions.

Call today for booking information and to reserve your date. You'll feel great when your guests thank you for planning such a successful event!

Become a hero to your guests with top-notch entertainment!

Not all entertainment happens on a stage. The most memorable experiences are those that happen to you. Jeff Evans' strolling magic is this kind of personal entertainment.

"Your show is every bit as good as the magic shows my husband and I saw in Las Vegas."

-Kathy Clarke, Pepsi Cola

"Our guests were mesmerized as Jeff performed amazing, mystifying tricks right at their table. His talents brought smiles and wide-eyed intrigue to the faces of everyone in the circle around him."

-Lynn LaDoe, Microscan Systems, Inc.

"Many of our staff continue to make comments about what a memorable evening it was... We owe much of the success of our event to you and we will definitely be calling you again for future banquets."

-Pat McKay, Providence Hospital
Human Resources Manager

Jeff Evans
interactive magic

Ever wonder what you would actually see if you were in-person at a magic television special or experiencing a Las Vegas magic revue?

When the impossible happens in this up-close environment, the impact is magnified — people react! Your guests can experience a similar feeling with Jeff Evans' strolling magic.

The fun just happens as Jeff travels from group-to-group, mingling with your guests. They participate in the magic.

Strolling is ideally suited for big audiences that are spread over a large area at banquets, socials, and business functions.

- No stage or sound system is required.
- Each group gets its own show.
- Jeff's performing doesn't interfere with the flow of other activities.
- Presentations can be customized to include your product or service.
- There's a lot of audience participation, including miracles that actually happen in the hands of a spectator!
